Back Number Rules

All horses must wear the correct assigned back number before entering the box. Failure to display the correct back number or competing on a horse with an incorrect back number will result in a score of zero. HEELING – TEAM ROPING

Scoring System

Each maneuver is scored from +3 (Excellent) to -3 (Extremely Poor) in one-point increments.

Any score may be held for review by one (1) judge at the end of the round.

Credits & Scoring

- Judges will evaluate runs based on the following criteria:
- Quiet in the box
- Scoring in the bridle
- Running and rating the cow
- Controlling the cow while handling (Heading)
- Matching the speed of the steer through the corner (Heeling)
- Maintaining a tight rope through the face (Heading)
- Controlled stop (Heeling)
- Eye appeal

New Steer RuleNew Steer Rule

1. The flagger or judges are the only officials who can determine if an exhibitor is granted a new steer.
2. If a steer stumbles leaving the chute and the barrier is broken, the contestant will be awarded a new steer at the judges discretion.
3. If the barrier is not broken, the contestant has the option to keep their score from the run or take a new steer.
4. If helper's horse falls, competitor will be granted a new steer.

Review Process

If there is a 5-point or greater difference between the judges' scores, a review will be automatically triggered to ensure scoring accuracy and consistency.

Reviews will be reviewed on the video.

During the review, in a multiple-judge format, each judge will have the opportunity to reassess the penalty in question. Until the review is complete, and a final decision is made, the penalty will remain on the score sheet as originally marked.

In a multiple-judge system, if at least one judge marks a major penalty, while at least one other judge does not, a review of the penalty is mandatory. All reviews will take place on a drag. If the rider's score is adjusted, the announcer will announce the adjusted score once the drag is complete.
